

Tagging Clusters – Financial Services

Data Warehouse: All information is stored centrally

Each “data cluster” stores all relevant information about a particular content. Data no longer is stored independently in each research tool

Inter-relationships are defined between data clusters. These can be leveraged in research creation and distribution tools

Taxonomies are managed centrally. Updates propagate through entire infrastructure automatically